

Make Calendars for the next 3 months!

Skills you'll practice:

- Writing numbers (up to 30)
- Time concepts (days of the week and months of the year)

Directions:

Printout the three attached calendar templates. Label each calendar with the appropriate month, starting with the current month, followed by next month, and so on. Write in today's date on this month's calendar (for example, if today is Tuesday, the 16th, write the number 16 in the appropriate square).

Have your child complete this month's calendar by writing in the sequential numbers beginning with today's date through the end of the month. Continue to next month and the month after. Be sure to tell your child how many days are in each month and which day of the week to start on.

Finish by circling important dates, holidays, and birthdays.

This is a great activity to begin helping your child understand days of the week and the calendar concept. Have your child place an "X" through each day to mark the passage of time. Pick special days to celebrate (for example, going to get an ice-cream cone at the end of the month). Have your child keep track of the number of days until the celebration.
